Dave:

We had a conversation about the "Sprung Shield" as you indicated but the group was much larger than you have suggested. As we discussed, the membrane that we purchased was very robust in itself and that anyone wanting to cut into it would certainly have to work at it. As well, we discussed that anyone wishing to break into the building has other opportunities including the glass doors and less opportunity through the membrane since there would be bleachers, concrete walls etc. in the way. We also discussed that any building can be broken into. The discussion then went to the cost, which was substantial, then to the amount of vandalism expected, which we felt was less and finally that it can be installed after the fact if vandalism proved to be an issue. I don't recall that it was going to be significantly more after the fact as you have noted.

I'm hoping that you remember my points and you revise your comments since this will be an issue.

Respectfully.....Ed

Hello everyone
Before I send this response to Council do you all agree with Dave's comments?
Thanks
Ron

Ron

Ron this was brought up by us to Ed Houghton, Marjory Leonard, and Larry Irwin in a meeting at city hall way back before the building was being erected. The Aluminum shield was a topic at some meeting but was always an extra charge for this product. The cost was too high and they had said the vandalism was very low and did not think it an issue. We suggested doing the requirements in behind the fabric incase you wanted later but it just was not in the budget. We can still install but it is very costly now after the building is finished as we explained at the time.

Hi Dave

As a result of the recent vandalism at the pool I have been asked to comment on why there is no aluminum shield on the building as originally presented to Council.

This was before I became involved with the project however I would appreciate any comments that you could provide as to when and why the shield was deleted.

Thanks

Ron
